

BROCKTON.

By B. F. WEAVER.

They say "All work and no play, the hookworm to stay in his system. It is this way. The child makes back a dull boy." Even teachers will admit that on the last day of school. They did at Brockton and on last Friday the children, young people and teachers met in a beautiful wooded place south of town, gathered flowers, played games and just ran around in the woods having a good time. An excellent dinner was spread and some excellent appetites did justice to the occasion. The school has closed prematurely this year after only six months session.

On Friday Mr. Ohio Harris was very seriously and painfully injured in a runaway accident, being thrown from his wagon and then run over by the wheels. At last report he was resting fairly well. Mrs. George Gunter went up to Troy last week to see her daughter who is sick there.

The Sunbeam Society gave an oyster supper at the school house Thursday night.

Miss Jaffie McEwen after a two weeks visit with relatives and friends here has gone back to her Braodside home.

Miss Kate Brock is over at Polly the quest of the Misses Dean. The whole community was saddened Sunday morning by news of the death of the little child of Mr. Tolliver Sawyer. It had been sick for some time but the care of loving hands could not stop the ravages of disease and the little child after fourteen months passed on to another world where freed from suffering it can call loved ones on.

The rain of Sunday came as a welcome relief from the long drought. It has also stopped the destructive fire that has been doing so much damage in the woods at this time of the year.

Have you got the hook worms? If you have it is certainly nothing to be ashamed of now. It will be thought if you do not accept the free treatment offered by the county physicians through Dr. Orr. Remember this work is carried on by the state board of health not only as a humane but a business proposition.

If your children are pale, sickly, and have suffered from ground itch very likely the hook worm is in his system getting the food that should make muscles and brains and energy. To deprive a well child of his food each day would be no worse than allowing

Mr. and Mrs. Will Owens are now enjoying the house keeping business in the house formerly occupied by Prof. Weaver.

Arwood Singing.

The Arwood Singing Society met the third Sunday in March and after an introductory by W. J. Wilks.

Upon permanent organization the following officers were elected: W. J. Wilks, chairman, W. J. Horn, vice chairman, L. Horn, secretary.

Rev. Bill Williams was elected chaplain and the following committee on arrangements was named: W. J. Horn, Walter Williams and Will Adams.

Then the committee arranged a lesson by three.

First by Will Adams, second by Bill Williams, third by W. J. Horn.

Recess 15 minutes, after which the house was called to order by singing lesson on page 508, closing with Boundless Love.

Then followed a fervent prayer by the chaplain.

All singers are invited to come and be with us on the third Sunday in April and bring their wives, children and books.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY

To Hon. H. A. Pearce, Judge of the 12th Judicial Circuit.

We, the grand jury impaneled by your Honor at the present term of the court, respectfully submit the following our final report:

We have examined into only thirty charges of violation of the law, and as a result of our investigation, herewith hand your Honor thirteen true bills, being three felonies and ten misdemeanors. From all reports from justice of peace and other information before our body, we find that there is no crime committed, and a disposition on the part of our citizens to obey the laws of their state, and are prosperous, and the moral status of our county is on a higher plane than formerly.

There has been complaint made by some that some parties are operating blind tigers, and we have been furnished with witness, and have inquired into these charges.

A committee from our body visited the county poor house, and reported that they found five inmates confined therein, who stated that they got good and wholesome food, but the bedding was poor and inadequate. We recommend that new mattresses and sheets be furnished by the commissioners.

The public roads of the county have been reported to be in an ordinary condition, but little improvement made upon them. We have urged the apportioners, and they have promised to see to it that all over-seers put in the ten days on the roads as by law required, and to report the next grand jury the failure of any over-seer to do so.

A committee visited the county jail and made an inspection of this building, and found it in as good condition as could be expected; they report that the jail is unfit for the confinement of prisoners, and in the judgement, could not be repaired to meet the demands. The grand jury have heretofore recommended the building of a new jail since the present one has been condemned. The grand jury has no authority to demand it, but merely to recommend, and this jury after a careful consideration of the matter, unanimously voted to recommend to the commissioners court to erect a new building as early as practicable.

A committee inspected the offices and books of the various county officials, and found the books kept in a business-like way, clean and neat and correct, so far as we could ascertain from our limited examination. We note considerable improvement in the clerk's, sheriff's and probate's offices, and recommended that the offices of the clerk and probate judge be made more secure by putting shutters, so as to prevent

The county has suffered a serious financial loss on account of the theft of some of the records in the clerk's office on account of insufficient protection. The bonds of the county officials were examined by our committee and found amply secured and sufficient in form. We, in conclusion, desire to thank your Honor for the valuable instructions given us in charge; also to our solicitor, R. H. Perke, for the valuable services rendered us, as well as our bailiff, Mr. D. D. Bryan for the prompt discharge of his duties, all of which is respectfully submitted, and we ask to be discharged.

Facts About The State Sunday School Convention

To be held at Anniston, April 25th, 26th and 27th, 1911.

SPEAKERS AND PROGRAM. Among the speakers are: Dr. L. W. Marshall, Germantown, Pa., a noted Methodist Evangelist, and teacher of the largest Bible Class in the world; Dr. D. Y. Mullins, President of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky., "One of the great men of the south"; Dr. Franklin McElfresh, Chicago, International Teacher Training superintendent. Among the in-state: Dr. Geo. W. Mason, Howard College, Birmingham; C. M. Ayres, Tusculossa; Dr. B. H. Olm, Alexandria City; P. R. Greene, Birmingham; J. T. Fuller, Centerville; T. M. Patterson, Clayton; H. L. Strickland, Birmingham; Miss Kathleen Mallory, Montgomery; Miss Minnie E. Kennedy, Birmingham; and a number of others. The first number on the program is for 10:00 A. M., April 25th.

THE MUSIC will be under the direction of Prof. E. O. Excoli, of Chicago, assisted by his pianist Mr. Alvin W. Roper.

DELEGATES. Each Sunday School in the state is requested to send three delegates, and as many more as will go, besides pastor and superintendents who are delegates by virtue of their office. All delegates will pay an enrollment fee of fifty cents, and will be given a year's subscription to the "Alabama Sunday School Bulletin" (25c), a copy of Excoli's "Coronation Hymns" (25c), an illustrated souvenir note-book, program, a beautiful souvenir badge and free admission to the special stereopticon lecture.

ENTERTAINMENT. The Reception Committee in "white caps" will meet all trains and take the delegates to headquarters, from which the Entertainment Committee will assign them to comfortable homes at from one dollar a day up.

Department Conferences. On Wednesday afternoon, April 26th, the convention will be divided up into conferences on Elementary, Teacher Training and Bible Class work. The Bible Class Parade, the prominent Sunday-school and Adult Bible Class men of the state, will participate in a parade Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. This will be a strong feature of the Convention.

County Sunday School Officers. A luncheon and conference have been arranged for 12:15 Wednesday, April 26th, for the County Sunday School Officers, with Dr. McElfresh, Dr. Mullins, Dr. Munhill and members of the State Executive Committee, will preside at this meeting. All ministers of the Gospel and Sunday-school Superintendents are invited to a similar luncheon and conference, at the same hour with the same men, the next day when Dr. McElfresh

THEN RUNNING, CIRCUIT COURT.

Now he is Governor of Alabama.

Mr. O'Neal declared himself in favor of an economical administration. He declared in favor of fewer offices and smaller salaries, and he also declared himself in favor of letting the legislature make the laws.

But he was then a candidate; he is now our governor. Not a single state office, of which we have heard, has been abolished by the O'Neal legislature, but many new ones have been created.

No decrease in salaries has been made; on the other hand there have been numerous raises including the governors own salary. Expenses after expenses have been added, including the building and furnishing of the governors mansion.

So many new offices have been added, that there is now not room enough in the capitol building to hold them all and they are forced to seek office quarters elsewhere.

Special attention has been given by him to the revenue bill, which provides more ways and methods of raising revenue than any former tax law of Alabama. It is a revenue getter. All will feel the burden of the governors "economical administration" before the end of the next four years. May the good Lord save us.

Expected Horse Racing and Bull Fighting to be Legalized in Alabama.

Senator Norman is a faithful prohibitionist, and he has fought the liquor legislation from beginning to end. He steadfastly refused to lay down his weapons of righteous warfare against every effort of the liquor interests to bring back into Alabama saloons or dispensaries until the final vote upon the Smith regulation bill. He was the only senator on last Friday who made a speech on the Smith bill. Concluding his speech, he said:

"Mr. President, This session of the legislature will go down in history as the most careful and the days of reconstruction. It was an extra session and remain in Montgomery 60 days longer, I expect to see horse racing and bull fighting legalized in the state. But the inevitable is here. I am last summit. I hope that no senator will think that I have changed my views on the liquor question. "We do not," said the senators, "almost to a man."

Attacks School Principals

A severe attack on school principal, Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes "I suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed until I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common. Thousands bless female complains kidney disorders, biliousness, and for new health and vigor. Try them. Only 50c at Harp Drug Co.

The grand jury last week recommended the building of a new jail as early as practicable. Anyone who doubts the wisdom of such a recommendation would have all doubts removed by an inspection of the present building. We hope the commissioners will begin the erection of a new jail at once.

NOT HARMONIOUS IN DEMOCRATIC CAMP

Fight Waged on Adamson and Fitzgerald.

Result on Special Session.

So-called "Progressives" Object to Adamson and Fitzgerald as Chairmen of Interstate Commerce and Appropriations Committees.

A fight is now being quietly conducted within the democratic camp, the result of which, it is believed, will have an important bearing upon the work of the house during the special session.

It is understood that the members of the ways and means committee, which is likewise a committee on committees, has been elected by the house, chairman of the appropriations committee, and a powerful committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

The extreme progressives in the party are up in arms against these two appointments, and are making a very vigorous fight to bring about a change.

The objection to Fitzgerald. The objection to Mr. Fitzgerald is that he represents Tammany, and as a Tammany representative, led the revolt against the balance of the party when it was proposed to smash the Cannon rules. It is felt, too, that he is too much of a conservative, and is inclined to the Bailey wing of the party.

Mr. Adamson is a strong state's right man in his views, and being a positive man, there is no question as to where he stands.

The interstate commerce commission is likely to have to pass on some very important matters during this session, and the progressives fear Mr. Adamson will be a stumbling block to legislation they regard as of vital importance, if he is at the head of the committee.

It is pointed out that Mr. Adamson was at war with the main body of the democrats and with the progressive republicans when he opposed the feature of the Mann resolution, designed to give the interstate commerce commission the power to surprise the issue of railroad stocks and bonds.

Mr. Adamson opposed giving the power to the interstate commerce commission to make a general physical valuation of the railroads of the country, a measure supported by the progressive element of the party.

In opposing the progressives on these and other matters, the Georgia always has professed a degree of sympathy with the purpose of the proposed legislation, and has opposed opposition on constitutional grounds.

Just what the outcome of the fight against Adamson and Fitzgerald will be it is hard to say. They are the senior democrats on these committees, and they are men who have many friends.

Democratic leaders are busy at work on plans for the session. In addition to the prompt passage of the Canadian reciprocity measure and other tariff bills, the house proposes to pass the bill admitting Arizona, and New Mexico and the resolution declaring for the election of senators by the people at the earliest possible moment.

Senator Watson's bill prohibiting railroads from charging over 3 cents per mile to passengers, who have failed to buy a ticket was passed by the senate of Texas. It now goes to the house.

"Son" Johnson, aged 5, the son of Mrs. Beattie Johnson, died at Sontag, Miss., shortly after being rescued from a vat of boiling water. The lad accidentally fell into the vat, where laborers had been scalding hogs.

The supreme court of Kansas held constitutional the new liquor law which prohibits the sale of liquor for quarter moons were carried on her person by the infuriated Kathrene. The white officers who had been employed to quell riots and prevent bloodshed arrested about a half hundred scared negroes and assured them that it was not an Indian uprising at all but a plain nigger meeting. Louella lived through all her painful wounds hence the nominal fine imposed upon Kathrene.

Last weeks issue of the Peoples Ledger was "brim full" of good reading matter. It is a new newspaper, conducted on a high moral plane. It richly deserves the support of the people of the county.

While we differ from The Advertiser on some public questions we admit that it is not excelled as a newspaper.

Coffee County farm lands are unsurpassed. There is no better or healthier place on earth for the farmer. Almost any kind of crop can be grown here in abundance.

The present legislature of Alabama has exceeded all previous legislatures of the state in its exercise of the taxing power.

It will take more money to run O'Neal's administration than any former administration in the history of the state.

"Taxation without representation is unjust" has a true application to the Alabama situation to day.

With liberal hand the legislature gives away, and with iron hand imposes increased tax burdens.

The grand jury took occasion to mention some commendable improvements in the offices of the circuit clerk, sheriff and probate, and to recommend steel shutters for these offices. It would be well to provide all offices with this equipment.

The present legislature of Alabama has taxed everything from our patience to ourselves. It has not, however, taxed public officers and higher salaries.

If the amount of insurance on property is made the basis of assessment value, there will be much property in Alabama that will have no assessment value at all.

Glad to see our neighbor, The Elba Clipper, getting to be such a newsy and interesting sheet. Come along my good brothers and let us make old Coffee known far and wide, for she is one of the best counties in the state, and also let us show that she has two live and progressive papers which are continually pulling for the neck of the woods—Peoples Ledger.

The Asheville Aegis commending upon our refusal to sell whiskey dealers advertising space says: "In all its thirty eight years of existence the Aegis has turned down thousands of dollars worth of these ads. In it war with the rum evils it has always been consistent and reasonable. It is very regrettable that our good prohibition merchants did not see it so, and instead of crying us down, did not support us in this. Yet the Aegis has outlived many flourishing establishments in this town and may yet outlive many more. "If God is for us, who can be against us?"

The Montgomery Advertiser, in Sunday's issue, makes a timely suggestion to the legislature in regard to getting out of a bad situation. It recommends a recess of two weeks or thirty days for the purpose of giving the conference committee time to solve the revenue question. We think it is a wise suggestion. They need time to think awhile.

It took the legislature nearly fifty days to put the "fear to the prohibition laws; they hardly have time left to pass the burdensome revenue bill, and an extra session will probably be called for this purpose.

Unwise Charity.

Some Alabama towns, or rather a few persons in some Alabama towns, have made up and sent purses to Albert Ulrich, the German who assaulted and beat Bocker T. Washington in New York.

This does not speak well for these towns. It cannot be said that Ulrich had the right to assault and beat Washington, and he stands in the class of other criminals or law breakers. The negro in Alabama or New York is entitled to the protection of the law.

An Alabama negro goes to New York, and is viciously assaulted by a German, who is tried by the court, and persons in Alabama send "sympathy money" to him. What does it mean, and what will the public think of such action? Will they think that Alabama is not law abiding? Or will such action be construed to mean that we are against the negro because he is a negro?

It is unfortunate that such unwise things are done. Ulrich is no more in need of help or sympathy than a violator of the law before a court in Alabama.

These few prejudiced persons do not represent the better and nobler classes of Alabama citizens, who believe in doing justice to all alike, regardless of race or color.

Blind Tigers in the Capitol City.

It is reported that the governors' letter urging sheriffs to enforce the prohibition laws has had the effect of closing up about half of the places in Montgomery where liquor was sold, but not all of them have yet gone out of business. It is said that a small boy could throw a baseball from the governors' office to many blind tigers that are still active.

If this is true, then, there are blind tigers in the capitol office's. The reason these blind tigers are established and are maintained in the capitol is the fact that they are not afraid of being punished for violations of the prohibition laws. If they were, they would go out of business at once. But the liquor interests are wielding a mighty influence in matters of government in Alabama. It is almost a liquor control about the state capitol, and we are not surprised that blind tigers do not respect and obey the governor's manifesto. The prohibition law has been declared a "bad law" by the governor himself, and the liquor people agree with him and do not respect or obey it, although the governor may ask that it be enforced because "a rule of our great state—but unwise."

The revolutionists in Mexico were pleased at the resignation of the Cabinet of Diaz, but they are not yet satisfied. They are demanding the resignation of President Diaz. They are not pleased with the new cabinet, but it is now thought that peace will soon be restored.

About the Revenue Bill.

The House refused to concur in Senate amendments to the revenue bill, and a conference committee is appointed to report next Wednesday.

The two amendments made by the senate are: The provision making insurance on property the basis of assessment value, and the provision denying back tax commissioners fees on raising tax assessments.

A majority of the conference committee, it is reported, are in favor of the amendments, and the house may yet recede from its action in voting non-concurrence in these amendments.

The governor and his friends are bitterly opposing the change in the back tax commission law, and favor county back tax commissioners as heretofore with the power to raise tax assessments and charge fees for so doing.

The result of denying the county tax commissioners the right to charge fees for raising tax assessments would be virtually the abolition of their office.

The amendment also provides an appropriation of $25,000.00 with which the state tax commission may employ experts to equalize taxes in the state.

J. Lee Long is Gov. O'Neal's appointee to the office of State Tax Commissioner, and Mr. Long strongly favors the amendment which practically abolishes the office of county tax commissioner and which places in his hands $25,000.00 with which to employ experts to go over the state and raise taxes. The back tax commission law was passed during Governor Joseph F. Johnston's administration, and has never met the popular approval of tax payers. It has been regarded, however, by many financiers as a good law. County back tax commissioners have been much abused for raising tax assessments, and, no doubt, many people would be glad for the office to be abolished, but what is offered to take its place is worse, we believe.

The change will give J. Lee Long great power in tax matters in Alabama. He, as state tax commissioner, can employ men of his own selection to go to and fro over the state and raise taxes or equalize them. It will cost the tax payers $25,000.00 a year to have this done. A great taxing machine can be established and maintained by Mr. Long under this amendment—if made the law.

In the Frozen North.

Many sections of Alaska are isolated for nine months of the year and must depend upon supplies secured during the open season. Almost every camp has Hanford's Balsam for sprains, bruises, inflamed eyes, etc., although it takes a year to fill the order. James Amich handles it at Tanana—the very heart of Alaska—and out of his own stock cured one woman of a lame back after she had been unable to stand for two years. Another man took a quantity back across the mountain above the Arctic Circle to Cold Foot. The liniment is worth its weight in gold to the miners.

PAIN-EXPELLER

A Radical Remedy for MALARIA. Unlike many medicines for this disease which only relieve, Pain-Expeller cures effectively and quickly. Eradicates the poison from the blood. Easily taken by the most sensitive patients.

Contains no quinine, arsenic or any other harmful drug. Mrs. T. J. McEoy, 634 South St., New Orleans, writes:

"Having suffered for years from Malaria—Chills and Fever—I was glad to learn of your Pain-Expeller. After taking it the fever left me and I felt like a new person. I hope that Pain-Expeller will reach every Malaria sufferer."

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of a certain Fieri Facias issued out of the Clerk's office of the Law and Equity Court of Mobile, of Mobile county, state of Alabama, and to me directed, whereby I am commanded to make the amount of a certain judgment recently obtained against Annie L. Garrett out of the goods, chattels, lands and tenements of the said Annie L. Garrett I have levied of the following property, to-wit:

One ten acre lot lying in sec. 4 of sec. 13, tp. 3, s. 21, one half acre lot of land extending from the Geneva Road to the gate of residence of the late Dr. Garrett, the same being a part of the land set apart to the said Annie L. Garrett and minor children of said Dr. Garrett, as exempt, also four acres lying in N. E. corner of sec. 4 of sec. 13, tp. 3, s. 21, and also n.w. 1/4 of sec. 13, tp. 3, s. 21, all in Coffee county, Alabama.

Therefore, according to said command I will sell, at public outcry, for cash, all the right, title and interest of the above named Annie L. Garrett in and to the above described property, on Monday the 2nd day of April, during the legal hours of sale, at the court house door at Elba, Alabama, in said county.

Dated this 27th day of February, 1911.
John D. Stewart,
Sheriff, Coffee County, Ala.

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of steved fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartics, etc. If you have gone through all this, so far as permanent results go, now you should try just once again, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish, and such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that they work normally, so that in the end you are cured, and your system is restored to its normal state. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy, and it will do this for you. Do not fail to try it. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy, and it will do this for you. Do not fail to try it.

To those who are afflicted with constipation, it is a way to prove these assertions with the most positive of results. Simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell, and you will receive a bottle of this medicine free of charge. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy, and it will do this for you. Do not fail to try it.
